WHAT READERS ACCLAIM TOWARDS "24 HOURS WHICH MAKES US DIFFERENT" (BOOK)
(REVIEWS).

"Shortly, I've learnt two major things so far by reading this amazing book written by a young curious boy. First is persistence in our lives, the second thing is setting priorities towards the things we go about, by weighing the pros & cons of the decisions we make.

-Ludovick Mushi, Tanzania.

"For the few pages I have been passing through, this caught me right; Your identity is owned by the person you are today, and not the person you used to be. Surely, it's a worth living personal growth book."

-Timothy Maleko, Tanzania

"24 HOURS WHICH MAKES US DIFFERENT, is a good read for those who are really willing to work upon their own self to become their better self."

-Anthony Mallya, Tanzania

"As it describes itself, with all those quotations and the reality being of the today's world surely it's a daily dose towards we individuals"

-Noela Bagonza, Tanzania

"So the timing & priorities in terms of approach & attempts are the ones which makes us different. I'm still on it and I do recommend it, to be someone's next read"

-Grace Fidelis, Tanzania

"Lots of punch lines in here, honestly I didn't expect all this at once from you Andrew, I was amazed, this is astonishing, Congratulations. Keep moving young man."

-Gervas Kitua, Tanzania

"I really enjoy reading this book and furthermore what I liked from this book is that, there are no many difficult vocabularies which tends to bring confusion to we readers, I'm still on it."

-Jendyose Balondemu, Uganda

"I have partly read this book which goes by 24 HOURS WHICH MAKES US DIFFERENT, it's an amazing read and an inspiration especially to the youths and growing generation"

-Anitha Ndyamukhama, Tanzania

"Whether you take responsibility of utilizing your time accordingly, or be irresponsible towards your own time. Time never waits, once it's gone, is all gone."

-Elizabeth Mgwira, Tanzania

"Success is not final, failure is not fatal. It's the courage to continue which makes things count. I have experienced this, this really hit me differently here"

-Lucky Kimeti, Tanzania

"Page 217-218 at least gave me some energy for what I'm going through. Some things have to end so as better things to grow upon our lives"

-Hidaya Meta, Tanzania

"Less tiresome. It's a good read for real, but try to use more vocabularies. For we experienced readers, we enjoy learning more new vocabularies while reading books"

-Kakuru Begima, Uganda

"Your identity is owned by the person you are today, and not the person you used to be. Surely, 24 HOURS WHICH MAKES US DIFFERENT is a must read.

-Rodrick Mtui, Tanzania

"I have just passed through some few pages, I really like the read, it's very educative and informative in terms of raising awareness to we youth.

-Kennedy Christopher, Tanzania

"We shouldn't end up getting inspired only, but we should work upon the things we learn from the people who inspire us" This really touched me.

-Zephania Mwaifuge, Tanzania

“It seems you are really into books, frankly speaking what you’ve written touches people’s lives, starting with myself. I also like the English in here, it’s so straight and perfect.”

-Hellen Mmacy, Tanzania

“Stop being afraid of what can go wrong, you should start being excited about how things could go right. This sounded perfectly from this side.”

-Ciza, Tanzania

“Doubt kills more dreams than failure has ever done. In detail, what you wrote about this quote in this book, is full of reality out there, it’s very true.”

-Juma KissFM, Tanzania

“The book is so great, I like the English in it, which is straightly understood, which can be read by any individual in touch with this language. It has got very good messages to your fellow youths, Congratulations.”

-Prof. Nancy Marobhe, Tanzania

“It was God’s plan meeting you my brother. From the day I started reading this book it really changed the way I actually think in stuffs. God bless you brother.

-Allen Mulokozi, Tanzania

“Surely it’s a good book. Its well understood and very educative. I didn’t expect someone like you to do this. All in all, congratulations & we readers are waiting for more.”

-Robert Kita, Tanzania

“The book is great, the true stories in it, indeed created emphasis to the reality being towards our own daily lives”

-Helbert Nyaki, Tanzania

“We need to learn that, the lifetime journey of success is never owned, it’s always rented, and rent is due every day. This got me right, this gave me energy & teaches us about consistency & hard work throughout our lives”

-Reagan Haule, Tanzania

“There is a great difference between giving up and knowing when you have had enough of it. Infact, this really makes us different in terms of understanding. We need to work upon this in some instances”

-Othman Mtengeti, Zanzibar (TZ)
