

A few years after completion of University studies Malaika is hit by the reality of life, society pressure and expectations, fear of adversity, pondering on what if she gets older before achieving some standards of impeccability. In these many voices, chaos and uncertainties, Malaika realizes that there are choices, of pace and path of life, holding on to God and purpose, then to somehow let her own voice stand out to societies's many voices.

Evangelista Gilbert

Choices

A novel

Evangelista
Gilbert

Choices

A novel